

be given in the Presbytery. The man who I think was in some kind of home missions work, a fairly elderly man, was the moderator of Presbytery. He announced in the meeting that ~~Dr~~ Synod had directed Barnhouse be given admonition, and Synod gave the words of the admonition. Dr. Barnhouse came forward and said he had decided that rather than perpetuate strife he would submit to injustice. So after that statement they read this statement the committee of Synod wrote that you have been not showing the proper respect for your brethren, not working with them as you should, etc. we hope you will be better in the future. He simply read this statement and then he said the Synod also said there should be some good words of advice should be given by the Moderator after reading the admonition, and so I will proceed to do so.

So he said, You have been standing for the truth and have suffered a great deal and we have great sympathy for you and he went on and praised him the rest of the time. One of the modernists who had quite a gift with words said, We came to see an execution and we witnessed a coronation!

That ended that but after that he was very careful what he said. He was not only preaching there. He was giving Bible talks all over the east here, but he was very careful about any direct attacks on the modernists. Before that he spoke loosely and said statements without -- we would not make. We would be careful of our facts. But he after that made criticism of them. He was very very careful of his statements though his presentation was absolutely sound in his church. He gave good Bible teaching and got on the air and had fine influence, etc. He was very very careful. After -- when things were getting pretty bad he took an 18 month tour of the mission fields. He was gone all that time.
