

a great deal in pushing the work of Dr. McIntire. Schaeffer have done more against McIntire than Murray ever did. Though Murray has occasionally written in his pamphlets what those who knew would take as attacks on McIntire, but he has not used the name, or mentioned it.

No, Schaeffer hasn't really attacked him much either. He has gone his own way, since '47. There were a lot of ins and outs. Some of which I know and some I don't. But they are two men I'm very happy in having had a part in helping to train.

You mention Eckelmann. There is a third one who has done a tremendous work. Of course he came much later. He has done a unique work. He's reached more college students for a real out and out witness than anybody else I know of. And really gounded them and built them up solid. The Lord has used him marvellously. But he was quite a bit later.

I guess we have about occupied out time for today.
