and that the fellow had failed the exam but that his other work had been good enough to ; bring him up.

I meant sooner than this to mention the fact that the great harm injury that I suffered at as a young man was not receiving the discipline that would have enabled me, with the gifts the Lord had given me, to accomplish far more than I have. I was always rather hit-or-miss doing what I felt like, and often leaving important jobs to thevery last minute. My father frequently said to me, "Use the pen; there'e magic in it. Never let it lag behind." And I always said to myself, "That certainly is true; I should do a lot of practice writing." But I never did. One time I said to him, "I think it would be fine if you and I would each write a little on a subject and we would compare them." So some common subject was suggested and I wrote a page and he wrote a page, and we compared them, but he never suggested doing it again and na ang kang ka I never thought of it again. 2 25 3 25 17

All through my life I have done the next job in line and often just before it was and and the party This has due, and have not systematically laid out regular work for accomplishment. been a great injury to me, and I fear that feel that I could have accomplished far ---more if the I had learned more self-discipline as a young man.

In college L was at a special disadvantage, being two years younger than most of. the other students. This of course hampered still further my physical and sports ..... development. I was always able to hold my own with the best, and graduated as valedictorian. One time someone came to the college and gave everybody an IQ EXEME exam. No announcement of results was ever made, but Ihappened to meet him on the street one day and he told me that I had received the highest mark in the 1 .... college in that exam. I never mentioned this to anybody but it did rather surprise people in the college.
