

chapter, but I wanted to keep the total about the same. In the early part I skipped a chapter which told about this woman who was forced this way to become an agent.. and he would come every week and he was supposed to talk with the Russian soldiers and gain their confidence and find out which one thought that Stalin wasn't the greatest leader and then they could liquidate these particular soldiers, and he was faced with the possibilities of being put in a concentration camp or being liquidated. He didn't know what might happen to him if he didn't take this position and if he didn't give them this secret information and try to draw out the Russian soldiers to see if they had any dislikes. As it so happened in his case, instead of doing that he fled. It's an interesting story how he did this, but he fled to Berlin and he escaped and told the story of how it happened. It illustrates the fact that the Russian representatives are not safe in contact with free intercourse. The people they trust are the people who come into this country and other countries who have a hatred in their heart for some reason. Naturally it's easy for anyone to get a hatred. In every class of people there are (8 1/2) and any one of us can be mistreated by someone and we get dislike for the whole system on account of the individual who mistreated us. And if you get a pretty mean mistreatment you develop a quality of hatred. And so the (8 1/2) developed form the secret group of communists in every country of the world. Even so there has never been a case where they have taken over a country. It requires a weakening of the world for them to be able to do it because the system cannot hold outside pressure. You could get a (9 1/2) who would seize our public utilities and such important places and then revolutionize an area. But they can't get enough.

It all seems fantastic when you think of it that after all our thoughts of progress for the last 2,000 years now we have so large a part of the world under a system that is more apt to lose than the old (10), that you had less personal freedom than perhaps any nation in the world. The people one hundred years ago would just have not thought it possible. But what is even more fantastic than that is that we would have so much of the world not only under system, but that it would be representative through the world as a progress and that many people will thoughtlessly follow the government.
