

crucify the flesh with the affections and lusts, to crucify all that that is our personal selfishness, and let the living of a normal life for God, going forward to develop the characteristics that He wants us to have. This internal fruit. Twelve manner of fruits. It bears its fruit in its season. Every month there was fruit. Are you bearing this fruit?

One time when I was in college and sold books for ....~~six~~ 6½....., and I remember I was going down the street in that hot oil down in central California, and as I went along I would hear there was a Christian scientist up the way, six doors or seven doors up the way, and I would immediately begin to feel a little less .....6½....., because I knew when I got to that door there wouldn't be a frown and a miserable attitude that just made it harder to go on, but that there would be a friendly smile, a pleasant reception, perhaps a glass of water if I were thirsty. They wouldn't necessarily buy the books. They often did, but they generally .....7....., but they always left you with a friendly feeling. Now some people have spoken of that forced smile that the Christian scientists seem to have. I don't know whether in every case it is forced or not, but perhaps in some cases it is forced. But if it is counterfeit, it is at least a counterfeit of something that is real, and the Christian should have a friendly kind and loving attitude toward everyone, so that people wouldn't say, well, the Christian Scientist is the one that is going to greet you in a friendly fashion. They would say, This is a person that is a Christian. He will be interested in you. He will have true love for you. He will reach you in a friendly fashion. I remember another .....7½..... I went to. I had some tracts I carried, that I used to give out some places where I called, and I called at this house, and here was this woman with a frown on her ~~fix~~ face and an unpleasant attitude. It seemed to me as if she was going to kick me out of the door any ~~min~~ second. I ~~was~~ went ahead and told her about the book, and told her and ~~she~~ told her, and I managed to get on with it, and I finished up the account of the book, and she says yes, and I thought, Well, now, if there's anyone I have ever seen that needs one of these tracts, she surely does, and I had a little tract thereon the loveliness of Jesus, and I handed her the tract. And you should have seen that woman's face. She looked at the tract, and her face completely changed. She smiled all over. My,
