

Thus in order to lead people to Christ it is not necessary nor wise that we confuse them with long arguments about the details of the story of creation. ~~It is necessary of course when they are troubled with particular difficulty and kept from giving fair examination to the claims of Christ~~ ^{When inquires is particularly bothered about such matters} ~~by these particular difficulties, it is then necessary that we examine the particular difficulty and show them that there is a reasonable answer to the matters that are troubling them.~~ ^{to} However, we should ~~see to it~~ ^{make} that the emphasis is kept where it belongs, on the sinful nature of man, ^{on} his need of a Saviour, and on the sufficiency of the sacrifice of Christ and his readiness to save. ~~Then, however, when one is saved we must show them how to grow in the Christian life, and his growth is bound to be stunted and warped if he does not accept the Bible in its entirety as God's Word, and go to it, not as something, to a book that he is to judge, and to pick what is truth and what is untruth, but as a representation of the mind of God which he can accept as true in its entirety, and can take what it teaches and believe it.~~ ^{after} ~~Then, however, when one is saved we must show them how to grow in the Christian life, and his growth is bound to be stunted and warped if he does not accept the Bible in its entirety as God's Word, and go to it, not as something, to a book that he is to judge, and to pick what is truth and what is untruth, but as a representation of the mind of God which he can accept as true in its entirety, and can take what it teaches and believe it.~~ ^{Unless} ~~Then, however, when one is saved we must show them how to grow in the Christian life, and his growth is bound to be stunted and warped if he does not accept the Bible in its entirety as God's Word, and go to it, not as something, to a book that he is to judge, and to pick what is truth and what is untruth, but as a representation of the mind of God which he can accept as true in its entirety, and can take what it teaches and believe it.~~ ^{must} ~~Then, however, when one is saved we must show them how to grow in the Christian life, and his growth is bound to be stunted and warped if he does not accept the Bible in its entirety as God's Word, and go to it, not as something, to a book that he is to judge, and to pick what is truth and what is untruth, but as a representation of the mind of God which he can accept as true in its entirety, and can take what it teaches and believe it.~~ ^{from which he can select what he wishes,} ~~Then, however, when one is saved we must show them how to grow in the Christian life, and his growth is bound to be stunted and warped if he does not accept the Bible in its entirety as God's Word, and go to it, not as something, to a book that he is to judge, and to pick what is truth and what is untruth, but as a representation of the mind of God which he can accept as true in its entirety, and can take what it teaches and believe it.~~ ^{should} ~~Then, however, when one is saved we must show them how to grow in the Christian life, and his growth is bound to be stunted and warped if he does not accept the Bible in its entirety as God's Word, and go to it, not as something, to a book that he is to judge, and to pick what is truth and what is untruth, but as a representation of the mind of God which he can accept as true in its entirety, and can take what it teaches and believe it.~~ ^{fed upon, that he may grow thereby,} ~~Then, however, when one is saved we must show them how to grow in the Christian life, and his growth is bound to be stunted and warped if he does not accept the Bible in its entirety as God's Word, and go to it, not as something, to a book that he is to judge, and to pick what is truth and what is untruth, but as a representation of the mind of God which he can accept as true in its entirety, and can take what it teaches and believe it.~~ ^{all about} ~~Then, however, when one is saved we must show them how to grow in the Christian life, and his growth is bound to be stunted and warped if he does not accept the Bible in its entirety as God's Word, and go to it, not as something, to a book that he is to judge, and to pick what is truth and what is untruth, but as a representation of the mind of God which he can accept as true in its entirety, and can take what it teaches and believe it.~~

God's Word was not written to tell us the foundation of physics, chemistry, or biology. It was written to give us an understanding of the truths of salvation. But whenever it touches upon these fields which deal with matters that God has created, what it clearly says cannot be wrong.

The creation of the world is a vital subject, ^{and} comes at the very beginning of God's Word. Let us humbly and carefully ^{God's book} examine ~~it~~ ^{to} see what it teaches. Let us not try to explain away ^{thing} anything we find there. Let us accept what we find and go on to enjoy the ~~great riches of the~~ ^{placed there} great spiritual treasures that our Lord has for us.
