There are two categories: those who are rebellious, and those who are opposing Him, and those who are ~~sincere, I mean those that are~~ ^{servants. one can not be} ~~without being~~ saved by Christ, the servants of Christ. Once saved, he is expected to render his life to the Master who has saved him, ~~to that~~ ^{so} as to undertake to make his life ~~accountable~~ ^{count for} any other parts of ~~to Christ~~. So, before we apply ~~to other parts~~ the parable ~~of~~ ^{to ourselves,} I think it particularly important that ~~we~~ ^{each} think of this question. ~~shall~~ ^{Do} we say, We will not have this man to rule over us? Are we trying to direct our lives as we ~~think~~ would like to do them, or as we think that we are given pleasure? Or are we those who have turned away from the rebellion, who have received the salvation so freely offered, and who have become his faithful servants? - coming forward in a meeting, ~~raising~~ ^{through} your hands, and saying certain words, signing the creed, and going ~~to~~ ^{through} particular ceremonies - ~~does~~ not make this difference? It is entirely a matter of personal relationship ~~to Christ~~, and it is very important that we each make ~~it~~ ^{taken} sure ~~that~~ within our hearts that we have ~~made~~ this vital ~~of~~ step of ~~seeking~~ - ceasing to be ~~this~~ - these rebellious citizens, who are headed toward ~~the~~ eternal destruction, and having become His faithful servants, ~~and not~~ -- but even ~~though~~ ^{if} we have ~~not~~ been saved, ~~we are~~ even if we are faithful servants, ~~that~~ ^{much of the} old attitude sticks to us, and I do not suppose there is any single Christian anywhere in the world who have not sometime in his life, in his work or in his action has not shown attitude that we will not ~~want to let~~ ^{have} this man rule over us. And so if we are to be profitable servants, it is very important that ~~we~~ ^{to} we get rid of these ~~re-~~ ^{fullest extent} attitude of these rebellious citizens to the very ~~core of the circumstances,~~ and make it sure that we really are those that are determined to do their Lord's will to the ~~very end depth of~~ fullest extent and
