

revelation is only something natural. It would be strange on the contrary if a personal God had not given a revelation to His creatures.