#15 1/7/68 Sermon - FBPCh.

thing in us will continue it, but, we have our part in it; and if we're truly saved we will do that part, but some of us are part pretty slow about doing it. And so So Paul gives us his example, that even he, the great apostle, needed to press forward and to realize that he in some ways was dead in sin, and needed to be resurrected from this deadness of so many aspects of his character, even though in God's sight the righteousness of Christ had been applied to him. He was completely justified, but his man sanctification had a long way to go, as has does (has) that of every one of us. And we must strive, we must twikt toil, we must push, as we press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of Christ; Section of the section of the to we strive to attain/forxike resurrection from among the dead features, the dead Christ, qualities, the dead attitudes around us, if we keep our eyes on/Minux and learn to know Him, and the power of His resurrection, and the forth fellowship of His sufferings, being made conformable to His death.
