

denomination where everybody believes in the full truthfulness of the Bible, where everybody believes in the full deity of Christ, where everybody believes that only through Christ and His sacrificial death can any of us be saved. What a joy it is after darkness reformation! To have experienced a reformation. I've experienced ! it in the educational world in association with my colleagues. I've experienced it in the denominational world, in the Bible Presbyterian church. How wonderful it is to gather together to have fellowship in the Lord, to joy in the things of Scripture, to encourage one another with our experience in leading souls to Christ, to tell how the Lord has used us in our different areas. What a joy it is! But Oh how anxious the devil is to bring in the darkness; how anxious he the prince of darkness is to confuse us, to get us upset over little matters, to get us each one wanting to have our way in everything instead of joying in the wonderful fellowship of the people of God!

After darkness reformation. I see no signs that we can reform the country or the world. It was 1100 years after Augustine before the Reformation came. If our Lord tarries, I hope it will be much sooner than that when we get a thoroughgoing and widespreading reformation. Let's reach out all we can for reformation; but Oh let's joy in the reformation we have in the joy of kindred minds which is like to that above! I thank God for the reformation I have been enjoying after darkness. May He enable us to appreciate it. To rescue others from the darkness, to in some way offset the darkness that is threatening to take over and ruin our nation, to make our denomination a beacon light that will spread the truth of God throughout this country and throughout the world. Let us pray: Father we thank you Jesus Christ is the light who lightens every man who is saved. We thank you that though the darkness is around us and is growing, and
