

been discouraged and their life as a whole has petered out. And ~~if~~ God wants us to realize these storms will come and learn with His ^{power} poer and His might and with complete trust on Him to go through them. Now in this case we find, No. 3

3. Moses' Intercession. The people cried to ~~pe~~ Moses and Moses prayed and the fire was quenched. Moses' wonderful intercession here. Moses was a grt. intercessor. If we are truly to be God's people we must learn to be intercessors even ^{for} against (?) those who are complaining against us and who are criticising us. Moses' intercession was important. And there is an important obligation for each of us to be an effective intercessor. Moses' intercession held back God's wrath. What a place the Christian remnant has in holding, in postponing, or holding back God's wrath. IN Gen. 18 we read how God said to Abraham, if there are 10 righteous people in Sodom I will not destroy it. He would not destory it for the sake of the 10 righteous people. There is no land that is 100% perfect, but the rightoues people are a salt that bring material benefits to all in the region where they are.

4. Moses' D fficult Position. All leaders have to face dissatification. In any organized enterprise leadership is necessary, and no leader can avoid criticism because if you do this one person criticises you and if you ~~do~~ do that the other person criticizes you and if you avoid all ~~crit~~ criticism you do not accomplish anything. You have to decide what is right not on the basis of what will effect criticism, but on the basis of what will accomplish. I used to say when I was early in my teaching career, I used to tell my students toward the beginning of the course, I used to say, Every professor is hated by his students. Some are hated now because they make them work. Some are hated later on because their time was wasted where they didn't work. I'd rather be hated now than be hated later on. You won't make -- If you are going to lead a charge or lead any organization it is very important to learn how to keep a good moral among people. And to keep your associates happy. It is very important. But you must not make your decisions simply on the basis of what will make them happy now. Make your decisions on the basis of what will be effective and what will be right and what will make them ^{didn't} happy later on. If someone didn't think that you had a better ability to think these
