

graduates of Faith Sem^o on many continents, serving the Lord under various mission boards, active in various denominations. Not all our graduates, of course,

Of course not all our graduates have stood true to the Lord. You will not find any institution that does not have some graduates who turn away from what they have been taught. It is my impression, however, that you will hardly find ~~an institution~~ a theological

(almost to be clear) seminary anywhere for which you will not find a larger ~~number~~ percentage of its graduates who have turned away from the great emphases of the seminary than you will find in the case of F^oS^o. Very, very few of our graduates have given up faith in the Word of God, or have allowed themselves to be used as instruments for the building of any apostate's works. After the seminary had been in existence about four years a fine Chn^o woman donated to us a building about five blocks from the church where we were meeting

two blocks farther away from the church where we were meeting than the houses in which our students were living. This was a fine mansion well adapted for classrooms and for ~~housing~~ housing a considerable number of the added additional students that the Lord was then sending to us. It was a beautiful place. Dr. Shields of Toronto visited us one time and spoke to our students. Then, looking about the ~~place~~ place, he turned to ~~me~~ me and said, "This is no place to train missionaries. After being accustomed to these fine quarters, how will they go out and pioneer for God?" I wonder what Dr. S^o would say if he could not see the property the Lord has given us, so much larger and more sumptuous than the property that so impressed him back in those days in Wilm^o.

During the years God has blessed us with a growing ^{student} ~~student~~ body. He has sent us a faculty that I believe is unequalled anywhere. ~~Our men~~ All of our faculty members are good scholars. All of them are good teachers. I have no question doubt that the average of teaching ability of our faculty is superior to the average ~~to the~~ teaching ability of any educational
