

God is more interested in at this time than a particular work in Afganistan. You may not have the means to decide which. You may not have the data, but God will lead. It may be immaterial which <sup>you do.</sup> But trust God to lead you.

10. When certain of your direction, step out in faith. In Gen. 24 we read how the servant of Abraham went to get the bride for Isaac. And how God led him, and when he told the people there how God had led him, he said, "I being in the way the Lord led me." He did not sit ~~th~~ down there in the town where Abraham and say, You have got to decide exactly where I am going there. Exactly where will I find a relative of Abraham? it was not then available, He did not know just where they would be. He did not have the means to determine, but he knew the general direction and he started out and went. And he being in the way the Lord led him. One door leads to another. It may be God's will that you take a certain step and then He opens the door ~~to~~ to what the next step is. You may not have the data to decide on the first step, but do ~~the~~ the best you can and trust God to lead. Step 11 is very important I think

11. Be content with results. After you have done the best you can to decide what is the will of God in a situation and have stepped forward and are doing it, if the results don't seem to be what you expected or what you desired, if you have truly followed God's prescription for knowing His will, and if you have truly trusted Him to lead, you can know that His will is being done and that ~~is~~ it is best after all.

It may be His will for one of us to accomplish a tremendous lot. It may be His will for another of us to seem to accomplish nothing. It may be his will for one of us to enjoy all the good things of this life, but they are nothing to what is in the millions and millions of years ahead in eternity. It may be His will
