

about this chemical element. She said, you know as I went through this book I was more and more impressed that here was this man who was constantly praising the wonderful brain of the man who had discovered these facts about this chemical element, but never a mention about the far greater knowledge and intelligence of the OTe who made the chemical element, about the One who had planned all this marvellous complexity and made it all work together in such a wonderful way. The world is blind to God. The world does not realize God's existence, God's presence, God's importance. But He is here every minute. The very hairs of your head are numbered the Lord said. Not a sparrow falls to the ground without His knowledge. If our lives are to count for Him, it is important that we have a realization of God's power, of His presence, of His control.

Now there was a second sight Isaiah saw. This is one which the average person does not see. We think of the Greatness of God. We think of His power, we think of His majesty. We can be lifted up and inspired through these wonderful things. But that's not the reaction Isaiah had. We read Isaiah said, Woe is me for I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips mine eyes have seen the king We should realize not only God's power, God's greatness, God's holiness. We need to realize our own utter unworthiness. If we truly realize God's greatness, God's holiness, we will come to realize more our own unworthiness. Oh, those who do not know the Lord, one of the first things they need to do is to come to a realization of their own sinfulness, of their own unholiness. But those of us who have been saved through Him, those of us who are trying to make our lives count for Him, we need to realize day by day how far short we fall of His standard for us. How easy it
