

Him and none can keep alive His own soul. "Only through what Christ has done can any have eternal life." A seed shall serve Him: it shall be accounted to the Lord for a generation." In Isa. 53, that wonderful picture of the crucifixion of Christ and what it means, it says, "who shall declare ~~His~~ His generation, for He was cut off out of the land of the ~~is~~ living." And I'm sure that is how it ~~was~~ looked to the people in that generation. Here was this man in His early thirties. This man who seemed like such a great teacher, such a wonderful/^{leader} man, and here ~~he~~ He was/^{taken and} cut off, & killed. "Who shall declare His generation." What's going to become of it. Is there going to be no results. Yes, there will, a seed shall serve Him. He shall have continuing posterity to those who believe on His name and are born again into His kingdom; "a seed shall serve Him. It shall be accounted to the Lord for a generation. We saw above how the message goes out to ~~the~~ all the world. Here we see how it goes on to generations to come. "They shall come, and shall declare His righteousness unto a people that shall be born," in ages to come His message shall be given of what Christ did on the cross and how He was raised from the dead. "They shall come and declare His ~~reign~~ righteousness unto a people that shall be born." This Hebrew form shall be if born is Niphal participle and your Hebrew grammar will tell you that very frequently the Niphal participle will have the sense of the Latin gerunda, something that has to occur, something that is required in the circumstance that compels ~~it~~ it to occur. That idea is involved in this particular form very frequently. And here, as a result of what He did on the cross, a new ~~is~~ people is to be born. People are to be born again into the Kingdom of Christ--a new race is to come into existence, the/^{race} ~~people~~ of the Christians--something unknown before, gathered from Jews and Gentiles, from all colors, from all languages, from all backgrounds, ~~it~~ into one great people that shall ~~is~~ praise praise the Lord and praise His name forever. They shall declare this unto a people that shall be born, that He has done this, that God has done this, that It is finished., that the work of redemption is completed and we can add nothing to it. Jesus died on the cross, the one sufficient
