and into the operating rooms and said, Get out of here! Out into the country! And about one million people were forced to leave everything they had and head out into the country there to get along the best they could. Over one million people have died of starvation and suffering in the last 3 years. They've been cast out of their homes and into the country. There they are forced to ~~work~~ work in the fields throughout every minute of the day with young fellows often 14 or 15 years of age dressed in black holding guns ready to shoot anyone who does not diligently continue with the work. With a little bowl of soup about the only thing they have. More die of the starvation than from the suffering. That's perhaps the worst condition in the world today. That's Cambodia. How Jesus must have compassion on them! Everyone of them deserves as much good from Him as we do. Why should we be so privileged because we happen to be born in this country? And they happen to be born in that country?

Well we might have been a lot better off if instead of being born in Cambodia they had been born in China . In China today they are called on to do whatever their rulers tell them and not to have any hesitation. If you do you are cast into concentration camps. In China today you will have a group of leaders who say, This is our policy; we're going to change everything that is old and completely do away with the leadership of this country of the last 10 yrs. We're going to turn everything over, and if you don't stand for that, you're apt to be tortured and killed. Then a new group comes into the power and the leaders who have taken that policy have been succeeded, and now if you don't take the opposite view you're tortured, thrown into prison or concentration camp. Life is orderly in China. You can walk anywhere in the country. Perfectly safe. You have nothing to fear in China
