

claiming Scriptural authority for or against human theories which deal with matters on which the Word of God is silent.

A handwritten wavy mark, possibly a signature or initials, located in the top right corner of the page.