1 we have preached unto you, let him be accursed."

2 Yet this test also is not always easy to 3 apply. Sometimes a true prophet might give a
4 message that at first seemed to contradict a
5 portion of God's revelation that had previously
6 been given, and it might require very careful 7 study to enable one to see that the two were 8 merely different facets of the same truth.

9 C. The Negative Nature of the Tests Given
10 by Moses. The tests described above were real 11 tests and would rule out many imposters. Yet an 12 imposter might seem to fulfill all of these 13 tests. He might perform an act that would 14 appear to be miraculous. He might make a lucky
15 guess about the future. It might not be pos-
16 sible to find any clear contradiction between 17 his teaching and the ideas contained in the Word
18 of God. In spite of all this he might actually 19 be a false prophet.

20 Moreover, some true prophets did not perform
21 any miracle. Some did not predict anything that 22 would happen soon enough for those who heard to 23 be able to judge whether the prediction was ful-
24 filled or not. Sometimes a true instrument of 25 divine revelation would use words in a different
