No other description of a creative act in Gen. 1. is so expressed "as to demand instantaneity." Most of them are so ~~expressed~~ <sup>worried</sup> as strongly to suggest the contrary. Thus <sup>(2)</sup> in verse 9 <sup>(1)</sup> we read <sup>(3)</sup> that God said, "Let the [to A on p 9e statement about the other great creative act that occurred on [to C on 2ff.

↓ # So far from every creative act of Gen. 1 being stated in such a way as to demand instantaneity, we have found that the very opposite is true of every one of them, except, <sup>perhaps,</sup> for the creation of light on the first day, <sup>[to A on 6f]</sup> which ~~Pimm~~ so vividly describes, ~~or~~
