

P 178

Stress will influence the vowel.

Umgekehrt a vowel will sometimes affect the stress

P 193 - Brachy definitely may have <sup>originally</sup> in his discussion of the Arabic. <sup>but</sup> the accent in primitive Semitic seems to have been as far back as possible. Moved forward in Heb. and <sup>as result of special circumstances.</sup>

P 190 a - absolute compare proto-Sem. with Spanish Arabic (which is related)

P 81 B // grünne Grundzüge der Heb.

Accent und Formenlehre -

a. historisch book.

Some what too much forced into definite schematic mould. //

Imperative were almost as weakly accented as the construct state. - Imperative generally followed by particles