

In early Feb, at say 1000 or 1100, the tendency would not have developed definitely It would still be wavering between t and p. The latter, the coastal development, which we know was already operative in Canaanite eventually prevailed.

(shown by letters of Alphabet)
" " Phoenician - not the best of original t as t

/// asutu ^(2?) at Hamar may have included Aramaeans.

Sutu, Ahlamu, Aramu may have all been Aramaeans //

⊙ The Zaker inscriptions seem to be half Aramaean and half Hebrew in their vocalization - seem to show an invading group.

// cf. Hittite & Mitanni. // //