

12.

discoveries that have been made regarding them, and these also are of great importance and of the important way in which the physical features of Palestine enter into the understanding and to the corroboration of the Old Testament.