

it has to conform ~~xxx~~ in certain regards to the law of the state in which it is.

Now think, then, of an organization, not specifically of a church, but of any sort of an organization. What ~~is~~ ~~govt.~~ does it need, aside altogether from the govt. of the nation. Well, in any kind of an organization, it has to have some kind of govt. If it ~~is~~ ~~xxx~~ a very small organization it can be a very rudimentary sort. But some sort of govt. is necessary. What about the first phase. Govt. to protect ~~xxx~~ against wicked immoral acts of one on the part of another. Well, of course, there has to be the protection of the organization from the outsiders, this is apt to be taken over by the state, the organization, as an organization, may have to make request of the state to make certain appeals to present certain facts. As to the relation of one to another within the organization, the matters are mostly again in the hands of the state. If murder is committed within the organization, if there is a robbery within the organization, if even an officer of the organization ~~xxx~~ absconds with the funds of the organization, this is not taken care of by the organization, but the state takes over this function. So this first phase is pretty much in the hands of the state in relation to any organization. There is only one phase of it which it is very vital that the organization itself considers, and that relates to the purpose of the organization. ~~xxx~~
~~xxxxxxx~~

We have organized a group of ~~xxx~~ people to have a temperance organization. And we say anybody can join this organization that wants to, pay a dollar dues, and become a member of it. And then the members elect their officers and then they decide on what they are going to do. Well, the temperance organization gets out a good deal of publicity and does a lot of propaganda, and the saloon business begins to be injured. And the income of the distillers is apt to be affected. And the distillers get together and they say that we must put a stop to this. They try to put advertisements in the papers, saying that after all people are better off if they are drunk than if they are not, and they don't get very far. Well, there is another plan that they might very well think of. One which the communists are constantly using now. They ~~xxxxxxx~~