

or three years Elaine Phillips went with her. The woman was very anxious that Grace keep on teaching. The class grew to about / 30, but never larger. There were three or four men, I believe; the rest were all women, mostly elderly women. After about three years I told Grace I thought she had done her part, but in that and there were more ~~more~~ opportunities for her teaching much nearer than she ~~could~~ could fill, I did not feel she should keep on going down there ~~w~~ every Wednesday night. She However, the woman insisted that she continue and she continued another two years. However, toward the end of the second year the woman was very anxious that we both attend the banquet that she put on at one of the big hotels, and I told Grace I would go if she would definitely promise to ~~discontinue~~ discontinue at the end of that year. She has Since that time there have been several times when the woman has phoned her ~~frank~~ frantically saying she couldn't get anyone for the next time or two, and ~~gr~~ Grace has gone down for brief periods. However, Grace has always seemed to have responsibility to get someone to teach ~~to~~ the class, and has tried various people. The woman, however, is very particular. Grace thought she could turn the class over to Dr. Bossard, who is a very bright fellow, graduate of Drexel, and took our full course here. He had almost finished his course at that time, and Grace introduced him, thinking he could take over the ~~class~~ class, but the woman did not care for his teaching and dropped him. Carl Martin went ~~to~~ down last year, took it for two or three times, and they liked him very ~~much~~ much and desired that he would continue. Carl evidently has a good memory ^{he} for faces and names for it seemed that after a time or two/knew most of the ~~women~~ women and knew something about them, and of course this makes quite an impression, and they liked his teaching very much, but Carl did not take it more than that length of time. Then Grace thought they coul- get somebody connected with the Tenth Church, since it is down in the city there, and then she thought of Charlie Davidson. Charlie, I believe, has taught/~~it~~ a number of times this year. It is my impression that they like his teaching, though I do not have the impression they liked it nearly as ~~well~~ well as they did Carl Martin.

Afr this digression I should say that ~~Carl~~ I was glad to sit at the table
