

writings - that was their interest and their attitude. In fact when the Pope excommunicated Elizabeth he said it was because she had partaken of the impious and obscene rites of Calvin. That's what he said. He couldn't excommunicate her for Lutheranism because the Peace of Augsburg had established Lutheranism as the permitted religion within the Empire but he claimed she was tainted with Calvinism. Well the leaders of the church, the young people, the real vital ones were largely Calvinistic in their viewpoint at the end of her reign. But the control of the ~~measures~~ ^{nation} she kept rigidly along the lines she wanted. Well we continue there tomorrow morning and Friday too.
