

100 (cont.)

book get there? He knows nothing of the book. When he finds it it is the great book of the law and he brings it to Josiah and when he sees it how can he assume it is written three hundred or more years ago and then someone would believe it was written by Moses. So the theory that seems so simple when first presented, when you begin to look into the details of it, it just does not work out and it is not so natural at all but it is pretty hard to see how it can be fraud written at that time. If someone hid it in the temple hoping it to be found sometime and then the ones would be pretty stupid when they found it if they took a work just written in their generation or maybe a 100 years before and they found it just lying there but this was the great book of Moses and it proceeded to have a the effect upon Moses and upon the king. The critical argument for the book is based on many things in the book which fit exactly with the reforms of Josiah and practically all the critics agreed a few years ago that the book was written at that time and definitely in order to deal with these reforms. Now that it has become accepted by critics that this comes from that period and that this is the book that Josiah found and JE is much earlier and P is much later, there is no longer need to stand on the details of it and critics have let their imagination run and they ask where the parts come from? ~~These are the parts~~

Prof. Welch has become greatly convinced that the whole background of this book is not the kingdom of Judah and there were the few chapters and they can later be interpreted in the book and the great background of the book and they say it is of the general northern kingdom and not of the southern kingdom and they then said this book was doubtless written in the northern kingdom and it comes from up the southern and that is where it is originally written and it was written 2 or 300 years before the time of Josiah. some way it got down to the southern kingdom and the additions were made and went into the temple and found them. Prof. Welch and the young man studying under him and- received this theory and he was going over to Berlin and study and Welch told him he wished that he would take this material and present it to Prof.