

thank you for the love of God that has begun our sanctification if we believe in Him and is carrying it on and will complete it. We praise thee for it. We thank you our Father for the love that has made us sons of God, joint heirs with Christ. We thank you for the eventual complete freedom from the evils of this life that you have promised us and for the knowledge of your presence here searching our hearts, dredging out that which needs to be dredged out, making intercession for us according to the will of God and causing all things to work together for good to those that love Christ. Oh, our God, we thank you for the glorification that you have promised and have begun. And oh, our God, we think of others going ~~XXX~~ on paths ~~XXX~~ which lead to eternal destruction and misery. And we think of the wonderful promise of God. Help us, our Father, never to be satisfied with the glory you've given and are giving us but to share it with others and to seek to bring them to the knowledge of Him who died that they might live. We ask in Jesus name. Amen.
