

I wish that just as soon as you smell it that you would raise your hand and thus I will know how fast it spreads back. And in about half a minute somebody on the second row raised the hand, and then somebody in the third row did, and somebody in the fifth and pretty soon the whole auditorium had their hands raised. Then He said, Now I'd like to tell you something. What I spilled on the table here was just ordinary water, but he said it shows the power of suggestion. Now they had faith in this man that when he said he poured perfume he really poured perfume. Faith means that you have confidence, true faith, that the one in whom you have it has power. He has the power to do what he says he will do. He has the power and you can depend upon his word, and you can trust it that he will do what he says he will, that he has a real interest in doing it. And true Biblical faith is that if you have truly believed in Christ He has confidence in you, confidence in you because of what He's making you into and what He's going to do with you. And you can trust Him completely.

In 1939 the German armies rushed across Poland, and Poland was reduced in a few weeks under that mighty tank army that crowded across it. And some hundreds of thousands of Poles were taken prisoners by the Russians and later became part of the Russian army. And some others hundreds of thousands escaped from off to the south and to the west. And four years, five years went by. But in Poland there were great numbers of people who wanted to get freedom from Hitler, and these people organized themselves very secretly. They did what sabotage they could. They did what they could to destroy the German war machine but it was not much. But they said, If we act consertedly, at some time we can take a tremendous damage to the German machine, but we will just perish in the effort. But they said, If the army of the allies who are fighting for our freedom are near, if we make a conserted uprising they said, that will help them tremendously in rescuing Warsaw from the Germans, and we will again have a free Poland. And so they built up their organization. And they kept it very secret. The German spies tried to find out who they were and some of their officers were found and were shot, but others went on very carefully planning for the uprising. Then the day came when they heard that the allies had taken -- made the Normandy invasion. And when they heard they had breached the wall and gotten out of Normandy they were still hundreds of miles away but they were coming. Freedom was ahead. Then they heard that the Russian
