

of God. The Book deals with many aspects of reality. It deals with aspects of matters to which man has no access to determine by experiment or observation for himself. If someone had no possibility of going to China, but desired to learn something about it, he would have to depend on the statements or writings of others who had gone there. If one desires to learn where he has come ~~fr~~ from, who he really is, what is the meaning of life, what will happen to him after death, ~~his~~ he must get the information from ~~some~~ someone who knows. Only god, God, the ~~xxxx~~ Creator and Controller of the universe, knows the answers to these problems. ^③ God has ^{provided a vast} ~~written the answers,~~ ~~has given a tremendous~~ amount of data dealing with the answers to these problems, ^① in the ~~six~~ sixty-six books of the
