

that it may be a problem to which we will not find an answer until we see the our Lord face to face. Number three. We should... it is valuable to study scientific and the historical matters in ~~the~~ relation to the Bible, to notice how often as in the case of the expanding universe or the case of the light coming on the first day and the sun not being visible not until the fourth day, there are something in the Bible which at first ~~with~~ sight strange, but which fit in with scientific theories as they progress. These are evidences which God has given us that behind the writers ~~of the~~ ~~the~~ of the Bible there was a mind that was directing their activities and causing their words to contain the ideas which they did not understand, ~~xxxxx~~ or to exclude interpretation ~~xxxxx~~ ion/which would have been false. Number 4. This is a valuable means of ~~preaching~~ ~~xxxxx~~ increasing our faith in the dependability of the Word of God, and in helping to lead the people to show that it is indeed God's Word. Number 4. When we find ~~that~~ places where there are hence hints or suggestions in the Bible which fit with ~~modern~~ advancing thoughts in various fields, we should be very careful not to allow this to make us declare that aspects these theories which are not clearly ~~xxxxx~~ ~~zizz~~ ~~zizz~~ must be true ~~the Scripture~~ taught in the Scripture because they correspond with the Scripture at ~~certan~~ certain points. At certain points science is constantly moving forward, and its theories are not necessarily be revised and changed, and to see how advancing scientific theories fit with biblical statements is useful in showing, illustrating the fact that the Bible is God's word and it is dependable. But we must be very careful not to in any way tie up ~~with God's~~ our faith in God's Word with present scientific attitudes or viewpoints. As science advances, old theories are let or set aside, and new interpretations are found, new ideas as proven, and ~~if~~ we must not permit the possibility that the Bible will get, too.
